DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claims 1-12, 19, and 27 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. The claims are indefinite because it is not clear what is intended by a device or system comprising a "memory means for storing a processing means". Memories are designed to store data, functions or results and therefore, it is not clear how a memory can store a processor.

1. (Previously Presented) An uninstal device, comprising:

a processor means for executing instructions and processes;

a memory means for storing the processor means;

installing means for executing an installation process for recording, in a device registration area managed by an operating system, function-specific device specification data, which is data to enable an operating system to identify a function of a device, in association with device driver specification data, which is data for specifying a device driver as a program for controlling the device to execute the function;

additional installing means for performing an additional installation process for recording at least one of the function-specific device specification data and the device driver specification data in an additional registration area in association with device specification data, which is data indicating the device;

uninstall request receiving means for performing a process to receive an uninstall request from a user targeting the device; and uninstalling means for performing, when an uninstall request for the device is received from the user by the uninstall request receiving means, an uninstallation process for removing, from the device registration area, the device driver specification data that is associated with the function-specific device specification data for the device targeted for uninstallation, by using the at least one of the function-specific device specification data and the device driver specification data that is stored in the additional registration area in association with the device specification data indicating the device targeted for uninstallation.

Claim 19 has the same type of issues as claim 1 above and each of the dependent claims (2-12 and 27) inherit the defects of its respective parent claim.

Allowable Subject Matter
